

EXPERTS IN EDUCATING TRADE ACROSS CANADA'S INTERNATIONAL BORDER.

I.E. CANADA –SHAPING CANADIAN TRADE

I.E. Canada is a national, non-profit organization representing importers and exporters and committed to ensuring that trade regulations, policies and processes allow businesses to import and export efficiently.

I.E. Canada is the premier trade organization representing Canadian companies engaged in global trade. Recognized as technical experts in the day-to-day import and export of goods. We assist our members in the facilitation and navigation of the movement of goods across Canada's Border.

I.E. Canada advocates on behalf of Canadian companies on trade policy issues before the Canadian Border Services Agency, Canadian Parliament, Canadian Food Inspection Agency, trade compliance practices and operations before Executive Agencies, and multi-lateral organizations including the World Trade Organization and the World Customs Organization.

I.E. Canada plays an important role in providing education to Canadian and international trade compliance professionals through its number of standing committees which review proposed trade policy and regulations for comment, off-the-record webinars with government officials, and the Association's annual Trade Summit, seminars, and trade briefings.

I.E. Canada has standing committees involved in Supply Chain Resilience, Forced Labour, Border Carbon Adjustment Tax, CBSA Assessment and Revenue Management (CARM), Trusted Trader Programs, and changes in Valuation Rules that will affect all importers and exporters.

I.E. Canada has a monthly Food Committee, Import Committee, and Export Committee that provides members with updated information and request input from the membership on the changes proposed by government agencies.

I.E. Canada assists Canadian and international trade compliance professionals by providing information concerning government regulations through its daily I.E. Today trade publication. Come join our team of professionals working together to SHAPING CANADIAN TRADE!
